Further doubt as to the identity of Hans Schmidt, the murderer of Anna Aumueller, was aroused to-day by the receipt of a cablegram from Berlin Main, Germany, on comparing a photograph of the Schmidt under arrest here with one in their possession of Hans Schmidt, the priest of Mainz, stated that they do not believe the photographs represent the same man. The able dispatches state that the likenesses are sharply dissimilar.

There is no resemblance, the German police state, between the mouth and eyes of the Schmidt photographed in New York and the Schmidt photographed five years ago in Germany. If the photographs represent the same man, the German police authorities say, he must have changed greatly ince he reached this country.
